

PRESS RELEASE

National Commission for Women Organises Three-Day Capacity Building and Training Program for State Women Commissions at Ayodhya

New Delhi | 7th April, 2025: The National Commission for Women is organising a three-day Capacity Building and Training Program for the incumbents of State Women Commissions (SWCs) from 8th to 10th April, 2025 in Ayodhya, Uttar Pradesh. The program is aimed at strengthening the functioning of SWCs by equipping them with practical knowledge, legal tools, and strategic approaches for addressing women-centric issues more effectively at the grassroots level.

The Hon'ble Chairperson of the National Commission for Women, Smt. Vijaya Rahatkar, will be present during the program to share her insights, interact with the delegates, and guide the proceedings. The program will also include a session on the role of State Women Commissions in Pre-Marital Community Centres, where the purpose and importance of such centres will be discussed. The session will highlight how PMCCs can promote relationship education and help in preventing marital discord.

Another key component of the training will be focused on the Prevention of Sexual Harassment (POSH), with emphasis on strengthening institutional mechanisms for preventing and addressing harassment in workplaces.

The three day program will also include training on Mediation Techniques, where participants will be exposed to effective methods of mediation between parties after marital discord. This session will also cover ways to manage conflict and resolve disputes in a sensitive and balanced manner.

Given the increasing relevance of online safety, a session on Cyber Security will equip delegates with essential knowledge to understand online threats and protect women from cybercrimes.

Further, the program will cover effective ways of case handling and conducting hearings. This will include training on key principles of case management, understanding the legal framework, adopting best practices during hearings, and ensuring proper documentation and reporting.

This training program is part of NCW's larger initiative to empower State Women Commissions through structured learning, inter-state collaboration, and continuous capacity development.

For More Information, You may Contact to:

Shri Shivam Garg

Media Advisor

National Commission for Women

+91-8130375035